Thousands Forced to Walk to Work in New York City

Trip of Transit Line Affects 2,400,000 Passengers in Metropolis Walkout of Men Follows Refusal of Company To Grant Increase in Wages

New York, July 6.—Motormen and switchmen of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. went on strike today because of refusal of the company to grant them a raise in pay.

Motormen wanted $1 per hour, switchmen 75 cents per hour.

They had been getting Motormen, last year, 89c per hour, second year 75c, third year and thereafter 82c. Switchmen 58c last year, 61c second year and thereafter until promoted to motormen.

The strikers had been working approximately eight hours per day, seven days per week.

The strike leaders said the number of switchmen and motormen on strike total 1,300.

The number of passengers directly affected by the strike is estimated at 2,400,000. Hundreds of others were inconvenienced and delayed going to work because these people used other means of transportation, crowded surface trains, "L" lines, buses and the other main subway line, the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit, upon which there is no strike.

Transportation schedules on all lines were thrown into disorder.

New York, July 6.—New York City was today in the throes of a great walkout.

Soul-Maddening Despair Follows a Midnight Adventure

LOOKING back on those terrible events now, Leonora feels that the cause of all her trouble was a foolish desire for excitement and thrills.

At sixteen she joined the chorus of a musical comedy. Then she met Carlos Mendosa and took the first fatal step that was to lead to tragedy. He attended the show nightly—sent her flowers and invitations to dinner. She was warned against Mendosa, but she was deaf to these warnings.

One night, she slipped away and met Mendosa at a little private dinner. What happened to her following that midnight adventure will read your heart with pity—and fill you with rage that such things can be.

Leonora tells her story under the title, "Dark Secrets," in the August issue of True Story Magazine—one of the most gripping that has ever appeared in the pages of this great publication.

"Life's Currents"—They told Ruth that her sweetheart was a crook, but she refused to believe. They planned to run away—and what happened in the days that followed is an object lesson that no girl can forget.

"Double-Crossed"—They met at a party. It was love at first sight for both. The weeks that followed were like a dream. Then came the awakening. A true life narrative fairly packed with heart-thrills.

"Bonds That Cannot Break"—When they married, she loved him too intensely to be jealous of the wife he had recently divorced. She was to learn that a hasty marriage may exact a penalty that few hearts are prepared to pay.
